Triessent® Specialty Drug Management List

Specialty products are typically injectable drugs that can be self-administered by a patient or family member, and are used to treat serious or chronic medical conditions such as multiple sclerosis, hemophilia, hepatitis and rheumatoid arthritis. The following is a list of products that, when prescribed by a physician, are designated as specialty medications. This list is subject to change without notice.

Inclusion on this list does not guarantee coverage. Some products may be excluded from coverage or require prior authorization before coverage is granted. If you have any questions about this list or about your prescription drug benefits, please call our Customer Service Center at the number shown on the back of your Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Nebraska ID card.
